NEMO Website

The NEMO project website was prepared during the month of May and officially launched during the kickoff meeting on May 22. The URL of the website is <https://h2020-nemo.eu/>

The homepage of the website includes an overview of the most recent news items, a link to several relevant videos, and the possibility for the reader to subscribe to the project newsletter.

In the navigation bar, links are made to

- the project (incl. the project abstract),
- an overview of all partners involved in the NEMO consortium
- several upcoming and past events
- all news items published on the NEMO website
- all communications, including outreach communication, science communication, blogs, newsletters and policy briefs
- other relevant projects
- contact information of the project management team.
